On May 17th, 1999 seven to ten female students from Pius XI High School will wash a set amount of cars (30-35) for Diversified Insurance Services Inc. as part of the "Operation: Day's Work- USA" pilot service project which will benefit the "Livestock Training for the Young People of Haiti" program in Haiti.

Students will arrive at approximately 2:00 pm and work until all assigned cars have been properly washed.

Students will bring any necessary car-washing items (i.e. buckets, soap, sponges, cloths, window spray, hoses, portable vacuums)

Students will be accompanied by a chaperone, and will be respectful to the business and the cars while working.

A set payment to be determined by Diversified Insurance Services Inc. will be given to students after the work has been completed. Checks should be made payable to "Pius XI High School, ODW".
